

CMM Court process

Case life cycle

The case starts from a petition to court (CR) or from the local police station (GR). If the petition is Not Ok the court or the police station may reject the petition. Keep in mind the petition becomes a case if and only if it has a mention number.

Generally there are 3 types of case, Criminal, civil and Tribunal (Special case with special jurisdiction) .

For the CMM (chief metropolitan magistrate) court the petition starts from the office of SERESTA . Generally petitioners complain for any issue go to court and find a hand (lawyer or petitioner himself) to complain about some issues. Then the complainant submits to the SERESTA, the body then checks the papers, supporting documents, payment slip, stamps etc and mentions a sign over the file. Also there is a record book which is a Govt. record. SERESTA maintains the record book (Complaint Register) by keeping the petitions with the number.

Case filing begins either Assistant judge court or Sub judge court whereas appeal in Judge court.

After filing a petition, if the governing body thinks the complaint is valid the court may issue summons. Summons may be sent by the govt. postal service to the xparty. or may be in any print media* . The xparty may have 30-90 days to submit written statement. if failed then court imposes written order.

Inside the court The judge hears the arguments of both ends and frames the issues of dispute points. If the Court(judge) thinks the case needs more/further hearing (due to more investigation, document collection, witness etc.) then Court orders for further hearing(FH) with hearing date and cause. All things and process notes keep in Cause list hereafter. If Court decides to give decree for a certain case then all decree records will be enlisted in m-Five record book. m-five record book holds the information about case number, decree date, case date, plaintiff and defendant information, Lawyer information etc. Also a short summary of decree written (note) in CRO forms book.

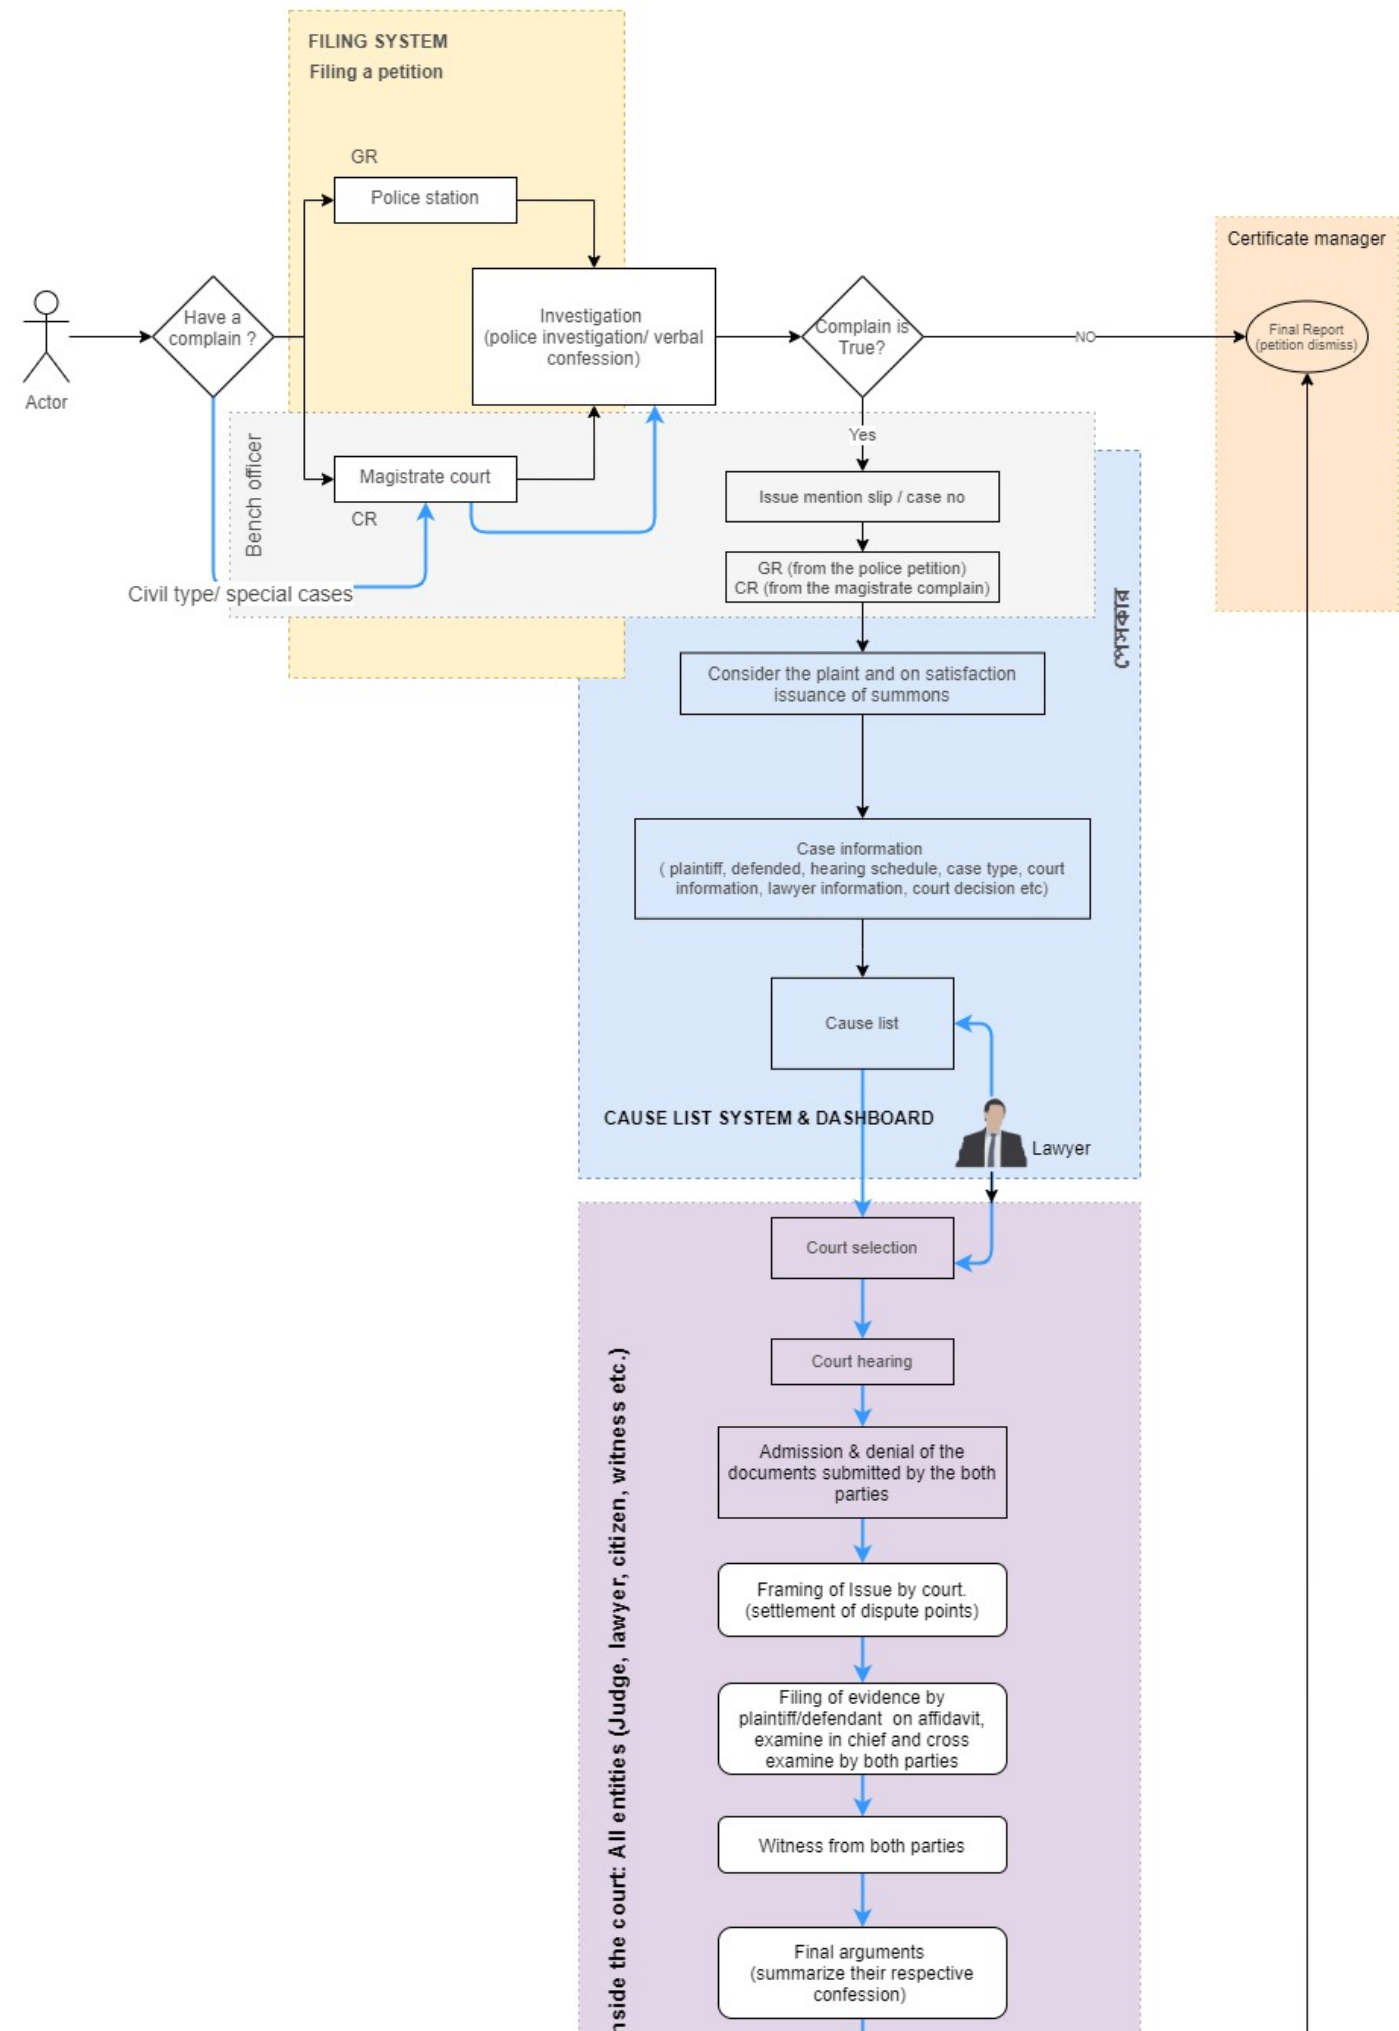

SERESTA maintains a record book (statistical register book- prison register) where every single status of cases are written. Then this statistical register book is sent to District Judge court. District Judge court then summarizes the whole things and sends to High court.

In the court there is also a record book, which is named by "Judge diary" It's a kind of record and task tracking record book. It is court dependent not the judge dependent.

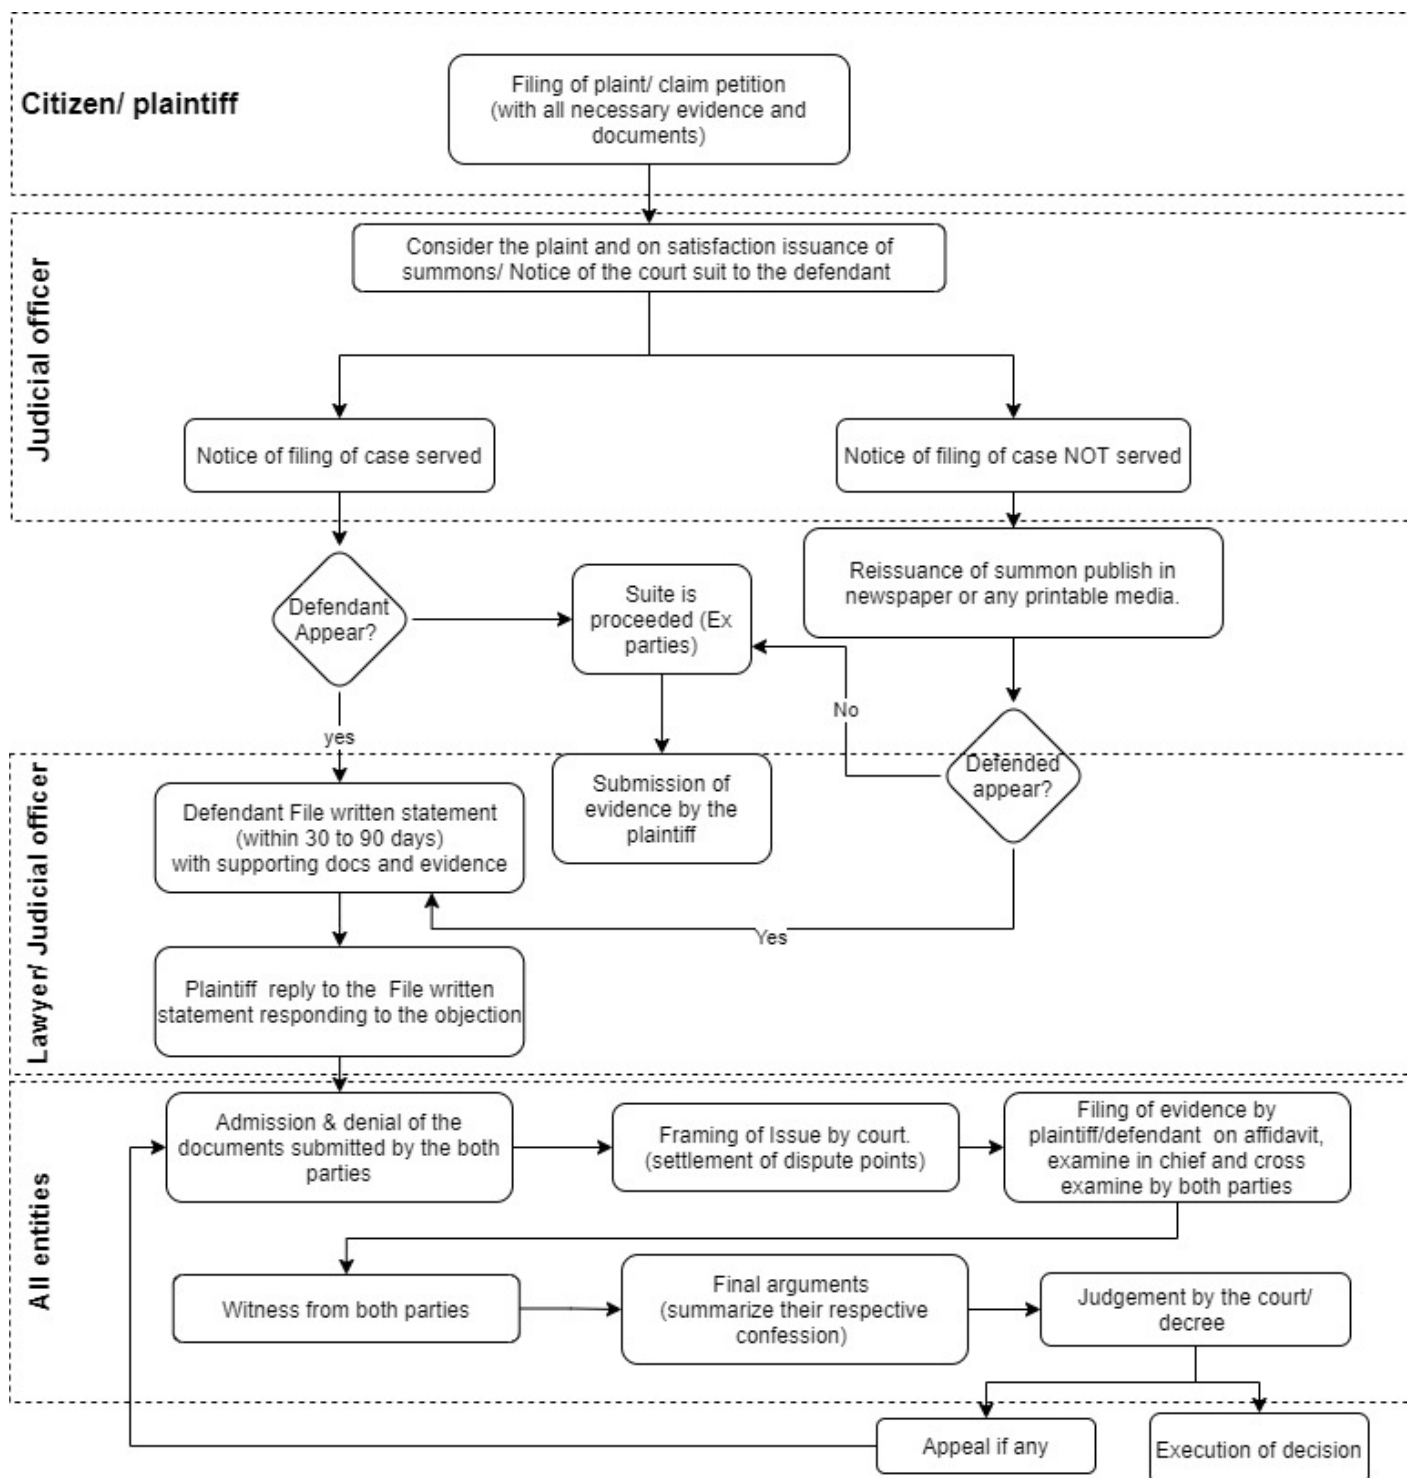

The whole process (step by step) is illustrated as below:
